Class History

Freshman Year

Nearly four years ago we walked through the doors of this high school for the first time. We were both excited and scared to begin our journey in this unfamiliar building. To lead our class we elected Colton Williamson as President, Paul Norris as Vice President, Joe Gimler as Secretary and Ryan Geehan as Treasurer. Like any other freshman class before us, it took time for us to realize the rumors of a third floor pool were fictional and to adjust to the shockingly small size of our new lockers. We endured the "Go home freshmen" chants at rallies and squished ourselves into the freshman pit at lunch. On top of these adjustments, we also had to adjust to the new level of academic work we had to take on. We had to learn new studying skills and find better ways to manage our time if we wanted any chance of making it through these next four years. Though everyone seemed against us, we, the class of 2012, managed to make a name for ourselves. We showed our true potential by participating in many sports, clubs, and other extracurricular activities. We pushed ourselves to make varsity sports and become leaders of school clubs. On top of all of this we were able to maintain Honor Roll status with our academics. The Freshman-Sophomore social gave us something to look forward to, and we enjoyed dressing up and spending the night making memories with our friends. The idea of becoming a sophomore and no longer being the unwanted center of attention propelled us through the rest of the year. We successfully ended our first year ready for anything. We proved we weren't going to be just another face in the crowd. Excitedly, we looked forward to our journey through our high school career and to see what path this school would lead us down.

Sophomore Year

Sophomore year was a huge step up in the world. We were no longer freshmen that everyone shook their heads at when we did something only a freshman would do. Living through the first year of high school taught us a little bit about who we were as a class. We were no longer embarrassed to be loud at the fall rally, so we joined the rest of the upperclassmen and showed our school spirit. At the football games, we stopped walking around Community and actually sat down to watch the game and cheer on Big Red. We had a great night at our last Freshman-Sophomore Social squeezing into the senior pit. After breaking in our shoes freshman year, we became pros at juggling the high school work load, friends, and our after school activities. We joined new clubs to build our college resumes, even though we did not want to think of it just yet. Getting involved opened new doors and helped us meet new people we never thought we would talk to. Sophomore year we became seasoned players on our sports teams playing on JV or earning that spot on varsity we wanted so much. We got the role in the school play that we rehearsed for every night and perfected our musical talents in band and choir. Sophomore year was crucial in shaping the people we are today and gave us a taste of who our true friends were. Using the two years of experience and trying to keep up with the fast track of high school, NAHS proved to be the best place to develop into the wellrounded class of 2012.

Junior Year

From that first brisk September day of our junior year, it was clear this was going to be a year not soon forgotten. We arrived freshly licensed and ready to flex our muscles with our new upperclassmen status. We rallied together around our town, showing up in droves for football and other athletic events, demonstrating our true North pride as we cheered our teams to many victories. But, even as we bled Big Red through and through on the athletic fields, by the time our first rally rolled around, we were all about the blue. We transformed our café into a blue oasis that could rival even the halls of Attleboro on game days. From floor to ceiling, tablecloths, beads, endless posters and streamers embellished every corner we could find and clearly put the seniors' efforts to shame. At the actual rally, and at the Thanksgiving one the next month, we showed up brimming with energy and spirit, proving a force to be reckoned with. As winter rolled around, Mother Nature also demonstrated she was a force not to be messed with. Bombarded with recordbreaking snowfall, our walk from the junior lot became increasingly unattractive as many days we felt as though we were Bear Grylls on an expedition, scaling the side of a mountain as we tried to walk up those junior lot stairs. Snow day after snow day, for the first time, we were nearly begging for school as we watched our summer slowly diminish. But spring brought a welcomed air of excitement, as warmer weather only fueled our anticipation for our first prom. With our "Black and White Hollywood" theme, the stars shined brightly as we walked the red carpet, making our grand entrances into the extravagant ballroom of the Rhode Island Convention Center. Throwing all inhibitions aside, we danced the night away and walked away with eager anticipation of coming together again as a class, this time, in our senior year.

Senior Year

In seemingly the blink of an eye, we neared the conclusion of our high school careers. We elected Laura Malone as Secretary, Jordan Badger as Treasurer, Meghan McHugh as Vice President, and Colton Williamson as President, who, with the help of class advisors Mrs. Ensign and Mr. Mulkerrins, orchestrated events that forged lifelong memories. Over our four years of high school, we've seen two principals, dozens of teachers, and made countless new friends. While our senior year was filled with the stress of standardized tests and college admissions, we managed to juggle our school work with our jobs and personal lives as we moved closer and closer to adulthood. Our senior year was marked by our position at the top of the totem pole, a position with perks like a parking upgrade to the senior lot, use of the luxurious senior hallway, and the ability to pull the "seniority" card on everybody else in the school. We'll look back on it and always have good memories of the football games, the rallies, and the senior events. We can remember our dominant position in the school hierarchy by a Powderpuff Football win and from the domination our seniors showed in all sports, particularly football, hockey, wrestling, and even lacrosse. Our year was filled with many fun events that we will remember for a lifetime, for who could forget the "Spartan Spirit" Ant DiGiantommaso showed when he won Mr. NAHS with the help of Kim Hallahan? As we ended the year, we held the event we'll remember most, the Senior Prom, at the Crowne Plaza, where we dressed up and danced with our friends one last time before we concluded high school. Now we've reached the end, and all of our hard work is about to pay off, but as we say goodbye to the hallowed halls of this "first and foremost academic institution," we must remember to always keep our friends and our mentors in our thoughts, and to never forget that they were the ones that filled these four years with good experiences and happy memories.

Juniors

We came into this year in search of pride and respect. Our first year as upperclassmen we met with great success as we defeated the senior class in tugof-war at the Homecoming Rally and forced an unexpected overtime in the Powder Puff Game. We also helped bring back the Homecoming Dance to top off a great Homecoming Week and a victory in the Homecoming football game. Many members of our class assisted in planning our first prom. We also did a lot of volunteering and fundraising, including gift wrapping at the Emerald Square Mall, collecting food for families for Thanksgiving and Christmas, and the second successful year of selling Crush cans for Valentine's Day. This year we came into our own and proved that we all have great futures ahead of us. We can't wait to see what next year brings!

Prom

The early date of prom didn't slow down the junior class; when March 31st rolled around we were more than ready. Students arrived at six o'clock sharp, looking stunning in a variety of gowns and suits, eager to enter the ballroom of the Rhodes on the Pawtuxet. Black and gold lined the tables with red flowers and playing cards to produce the "Land of Hearts" theme. The awesome DJ and delicious chocolate cake made up for the sub-par chicken. Everyone instantly flooded the dance floor and danced for hours. All of the drama and endless preparations for prom faded away with the music. Mr. Herber announced 2012's Prom Court, which included George Bradley, Tyler Sellner, Sam Vinceguerra, Tom Pettengill, Alley Harbour, Caroline Adler, Nicole Hauer, and Rose Mooney. The staff awarded Eric Beckwith and Hannah McCarthy as prom king and queen. Overall, the night was a great success; students were safe and had a fun time. Prom ended all too quickly, and senior year will be here and gone before we know it. So get ready for one more year at NAHS and especially senior prom. It will be better than ever!

Sophomores

No longer at the bottom of the food chain, we came in this year soaring with confidence and ready to take on the challenges facing us. With higher level classes, PSATs, and the dreaded MCAS tests, we met each challenge with excellence. As always, our class made huge contributions to sports teams, theatre productions, clubs and extracurriculars. We also contributed greatly to our school by adding candy machines in the lobby, having the highest turnout at the Homecoming Dance, and having high turnouts for class dues and the Freshmen-Sophomore social. As the years of high school pass before our eyes, we remain one, standing tall and strong. There's nothing we can't overcome. We are the class of 2014 and we are tomorrow's future.

On a cold, December, Friday night, freshmen and sophomores filed into their old middle school cafeteria to have a good time and make memories that would last forever. Everyone looked amazing in either their dresses or shirt-and-ties as they stepped onto the dance floor. With strings of lights draped all around and snowflakes everywhere, it no longer looked like a cafeteria but rather "A Winter Wonderland", the evening's theme. Eventually, when the lights dimmed down and the DJ took over, people sang until they had no voice left and danced the night away until they could no longer feel their feet. The DJ played a huge range of songs, from pop artists like New Boyz with "Better With The Lights Off" or LMFAO with "Party Rock Anthem" to, of course, the classical slow songs. However, like all good things, Social had to come to an end. Without the help of the class officers, advisers, and everyone there it could not have been such a success. As the years of high school go on, we will always remember that December night when the two classes came together to share laughs, smiles, and good times that we will always be able to look back on.

- Colin Quinn

Freshmen Chelsea Howarth, Savanna Nelson and Jasmine Bonenfant enjoy their first Social.

Bridget Braun, Paige Vidal, Taylor Crossley, Danielle Bengtson and Abby Carey add some color to the dance floor.

Sean Hines, Lucas Tierney and George Condon arrive in style. Sean and George couldn't have planned these outfits any better!

Danielle Perron shows off her robotic moves.

Rachel Murphy and Marissa Moore share a laugh on the dance floor.

The dance gets intense as the night goes on. Nobody could sit this one out!

These girls show that they really know how to have a good time!

Freshmen

We came into the high school not knowing what to expect but quickly adjusted to the school. Stares from upperclassmen and seniors' yells of "Go home freshmen!" were just a few things we had to get used to. We also had to deal with smaller lockers and getting around the school in four minutes. Despite these challenges, being a freshmen was a wonderful experience and a time to become independent. All of us worked extremely hard in academics, clubs, and the arts. We filled the honor roll each semester, and no one gave up throughout the entire year. Many freshmen played on varsity sports teams and contributed greatly to their teams. We have all grown so much in this past year and are looking forward to three more. The class of 2015 has spirit and knows how to work together to achieve our goals. We are all ready for a memorable journey these next three years. Let's make it count!

The North Attleborough High School Fall Varsity Cheerleaders had another great season. From hot summer captains practices and beach days to the UCA Cheerleading Camp, we made great memories. Soon enough our official season began, and we were practicing all week to perform at the Friday night football games and support our players. In October we excitedly prepared for our annual Fashion Show fundraiser where we modeled cute clothes and stunning prom dresses.

On the night before the Thanksgiving Day game against Attleboro, we had our team sleepover where we drove around to the football players' houses delivering cakes and banners. The next morning all of North Attleboro was proud to say that we "kept Hilda home", victorious again. Overall, this was a very fun and successful season bringing new ideas and skills to our team that would prove beneficial to us during the winter season. We love you girls and we will miss you next year!

The 2011 Red Rocketeer football team was an atypical group to say the least. We had lost the majority of our starters to graduation and had few players with real varsity experience. As the season approached, the majority of people saw a bleak future in the upcoming months. For this team, it was only added encouragement. We put ourselves to work at captains' practice and carried that ethic with us as we started two-adays. We withstood the beating the sun gave us throughout those scorching summer months and continued to move forward on our path to perfection. Throughout the first weeks of the season, we were continuously doubted by our peers for consistently winning by narrow margins of a touchdown or less. Regardless, we were winning football games and gaining valuable experience in pressure-filled situations that would benefit us later on. Those benefits surfaced on Homecoming night at Community Field when we came away with a victory in overtime over Stoughton, the first overtime game in North Attleboro football history. Although we fell the following week to a potent King Philip group, we were able to rally and play our best football the remaining four weeks of the season. Over that last month of football, the 2011 team upset undefeated Mansfield on their home field, as well as knocked off cross-town rival Attleboro on Thanksgiving Day to keep Hilda home in Big Red Country. Before the season, people said we didn't have a chance. Now, they know that we did have a chance because we capitalized on it. We went in losers, and we came out champions. Hockomock League Champions.

It was an up and down season this year for the golf team as we only missed the state tournament by one win. The young and talented team was lead by senior captains Brendan Burns and Colton Williamson along with help from senior Matt Dieterle. The depth of the team gave a variety of kids the opportunity to compete in varsity matches. Junior Eric Marchetti was the team's leader on the scoreboard as he consistently scored low and finished second at the Hockomock Championship. Matt Dieterle, Dave Joyce, Brian Brigham, and Tyler Zarembovicz also performed consistently well and powered the team to some of our wins. Matt Rosen and Matt Burke provided the team with comic relief during practices at Locust Valley. Next year's team has a lot of promise under the leadership of captains Dave Joyce and Eric Marchetti and we wish them the best of luck.

The 2011-2012 North Girls Volleyball season was full of adventure. The year started off well and ended even better. The girls made it to the South Sectional finals to once again match-up against Barnstable. The girls had a rough start in the beginning losing their libero, Captain Kim Hallahan, to injury, but they were still able to pull off wins with leadership from Captain Kelsey Weymouth. The team consisted of 13 unbelievably talented girls that were able to work hard through the end of the season to make it a year they will never forget.

The team was made up of diverse personalities, but in the end they were all able to blend together and become the closest "family" North Volleyball has ever seen. Through the season, traveling to Pembroke to win the Showcase tournament, the long bus rides with the one and only Jerry Espinosa, or watching Bridesmaids before every tournament, this team was the greatest team in North Volleyball history.

Kim Hallahan and Kelsey Weymouth

Below: Senior Coryn Maher is a great addition to the team. She has played year round soccer since she was little.

Training began in June with after school weight lifting sessions and pickup games with the boys. At the Colby Sawyer campus we learned amazing technical and tactical skills but most importantly we learned how to be a team. Having a new coach, Bill Wallace, might have frightened everybody in the beginning but as time went on we could see that it was the fresh start we needed. We came out strong, getting a much needed win over our rival Attleboro Bombardiers and pulling out an amazing tie against the fierce OA Tigers.

The scores and points are not the only thing that made this season so memorable. Our team parties were the best, stuffing our faces at the spaghetti dinner and laughing uncontrollably at Bridesmaids during our team sleepover. This was an amazing season even if the scoreboard did not always reflect it. We were transformed from just an ordinary soccer team to extraordinary soccer sisters!! <3 We can't wait to see what next season will bring as we pass down our captaincy to Brooke Maher and Sarabeth Parent. Good luck and we'll miss you!

Losing some very talented seniors and gaining a new coach presented a unique set of challenges for the 2011 team. Having a successful team would mean every player had to be ready to work hard and be dynamic both on and off the field. Fortunately, every player was ready to do just that and not only improve his technical skills, but his soccer knowledge and overall fitness. Captains' practices started earlier than every before (before the previous school year ended), and prepared us for both Coach Burgess' grueling workouts and Coach Alves' signature rainy day practices. Although our record did not show it, we played some great soccer. Highlights of the season included the comeback to beat Mansfield and of course the win against Attleboro in penalty kicks to keep the Leach and Garner cup at home for the second year in a row. Injuries proved to be a thorn in our side once again this year, but the versatility of our players meant the void was never felt on the field. The 2011 team will be remembered as one of the most well rounded group of players to come through NAHS.

With eleven senior players graduating last year, the 2011 field hockey team had big shoes to fill. The seniors and juniors all took on leadership roles this year and introduced the freshmen to our field hockey family. Countless memories were made throughout the season. From grueling hot doubles to the swampy end of season games, the girls kept their spirits up and sticks down. The team improved a noticeable amount this year. Even though we were a young team, we were still able to double our wins from last year and pull off some upsets as well.

Something we hope will never change is how close the team is. The laughs we shared this year, between the shed falling apart and the ridiculous chants on the bus, are what we are sure to remember years from now. Team dinners, bra tags, and sister bags are traditions we know next year captains Rose Mooney and Rebecca Leavitt will continue. We wish the best of luck to our field hockey girls next year!

The 2011 North Attleborough High School Girls Cross-Country team quote, "Run hard when it's hard to run," taught us determination and perseverance throughout the season and motivated us to an outstanding record of 3-1. Without the addition of many excellent runners and the guidance of our amazing coach, Ms. Bennett, we would have been lost. As captains we could not have asked for a better team, and the bonds we made during the cross-country season are unbreakable. Through our team sleepover, the annual pasta dinner, t-shirt making days, team building activities, and much more, we grew closer each day!

The 2011 cross-country season was a great success filled with many fantastic memories. We are so proud of everyone on the team. We leave the team with good wishes in the hands of the 2012 captains, Sarah Caruso and Sara Treen, to carry them into another successful season.

The 2011 Cross Country season was a successful one for the team. We finished the season with a 2-2 record and got fifth place at the Hockomock League Championship Meet. Many underclass runners had impressive seasons, proving that they can step up after we seniors leave. All members of the team showed enthusiasm and hard work when faced with grueling practices and insurmountable odds. Dear Fellow Ballers,

This past season, with most players returning, we got off to an explosive start. With a 3-1 record before the holiday break, we quickly established ourselves as a top contender in the league. We knew we had the talent, but we needed to find our identity as a team. Despite stumbling through a rough period with a few losses we came together as one, knowing that the key to success was each other. We emerged as a stronger, more united team, a force to be reckoned with. We went on a seven game winning streak, securing our spot in the state tournament, with huge emotional wins over powerhouses Mansfield and Franklin. Jill's momentous 1000th point only further motivated us as a team. We gave everything we had and left our hearts on the floor, giving Braintree a battle that was not reflected by the score. Overall, the season was everything the seniors could have hoped for. Kerry, Laura, and Delaney lead the team with their heart. This season should be remembered for our triumphs on the court but more importantly for the bonds we formed off the court. Even though this team is losing five seniors, we have an amazing group of underclassmen and know only more success lies in the future. Love you girls, we will miss you so much.

The 2011-12 boys basketball team entered the season with confidence and optimism despite the many obstacles it faced. Having only three seniors and four returning varsity players, the group had to call upon numerous underclassmen to fill the void. The most significant obstacle, however, may have been the array of talent presenting itself this year, which included perennial powerhouses like King Philip, Mansfield, Stoughton and Franklin. Nevertheless, our group of eleven never backed down from the challenge; we met it head on.

The offensive unit was led by the outstanding play of junior guard Greg Gildea. The offensive MVP proved himself in key situations when the team was in need of a score. No less important was the lights-out shooting from guard Ryan Foster, nor the play making from guards Ryan Perron and Captain Matt Dieterle. The powerful play from forwards Sean Peters and Troy Richardson anchored our presence under the rim. However, the most impressive aspect of the 2011-12 team was its defense. The quick hands and feet from sophomores Sam Brown and Mike Lambert combined with the rebounding and post-defense from junior Harrison Carmichael and Captain Paul Norris contributed to the team's defensive dominance. That same effort limited potent offenses like Mansfield, King Philip and Franklin to under 65 points, a total well below their averages.

The season ended on a high note as our group closed out the year with three consecutive victories over Foxboro, Milford and Bishop Feehan, the latter coming in dramatic fashion. With time winding down in our last game against the playoff-bound Shamrocks, Ryan Foster buried his third three-pointer of the last two minutes, solidifying the victory for Big Red. It took us quite a while, but this basketball team found itself in those closing seconds and left a statement in the Shamrock gymnasium. Next year's team will undoubtedly pick up where we left off and never look

The North Attleboro High School Winter Varsity cheerleaders had an amazing and undefeated 2012 competition season. We attended our first invitational competition at David Prouty High School and left with a first place trophy. We then headed off to Holy Name High School and Beverly High School for two more invitational competitions. After being awarded first place and grand championship trophies at both competitions, we had high hopes for the Hockomock Championship. Our spirits and nerves were lifted once again when we took home the championship title for the fourteenth year in a row! Our hard work paid off and we returned home with another first place trophy and received the highest score of the day! Our hopes were high, but we knew that the upcoming week was the most crucial week of practice. We were ready to fight for a State Championship. We took off to Lowell High School in our decorated bus in hopes of winning a state title for the first time since 2004. After leaving everything we had on the mat and cheering our hearts out, we were awarded with a D2 Massachusetts State Championship title! We will never forget the tears and joy of that moment when we heard our names announced. At New Englands the next week we defended our name yet again when we eamed number one in New England! There are no words to describe how amazing this 2012 competition season has been. We're so proud of each and every one of you girls, and we thank you for making all of our dreams come true. We know that your future shines bright and you will continue to

With the winter season came the NAHS Girls Swim Team, a strong force to be reckoned with. With wins against Canton, Sharon, and Stoughton, the team pulled out a great start. Unfortunately, the team's three year undefeated streak came to an end with defeats from King Philip and Mansfield. However, these losses only fueled the fire for North girls. At the Hockomock League Championship meet, everybody swam her best, pushing North to first. Going second and third in the final event, North Attleboro's Girls Swim Team secured their 6th consecutive Hockomock Championship title. After this, they had a fantastic showing at the Division 1 Sectionals and States, placing in the top 10 in both meets. It was a hard season, with injuries, sickness, and heartbreaking losses. However, the North Attleboro Girls never gave up, and that is something to be proud of.

Vince Lombardi once said, "The only time success comes before work is in the dictionary." The members of the NAHS boys swim team know first-hand that success will not come without hard work. This year, the 2011-2012 swim team thrived on diligence, drive, and dedication. In a sport where every hundredth of a second counts, every swimmer put forth the 110% effort to maintain that Red Rocketeer mentality. Progress throughout the year was extensive. From our season opener at the dreaded Randolph High School pool to the Division I State Championships at the pristine Blodgett Pool of Harvard University, our hard work paid off.

Pushing ourselves and pushing each other, we as a family, found much success this year. Several records fell and many new swimmers rose to the top. From our pro-backstroker, Ryan Boraski, to our phenomenal flyer, Ben Gingras, from one Steele to another Steele, every individual provided the team with tremendous support. Every swimmer, whether a shark or a minnow, provided immeasurable dedication, and thus, success. Mike Bradley, Johnny Cummings, Chen 1 and Chen 2, Dillon Brown, Neal Worthington, Adam Whitney, Big Mac, Drew Wentworth; the list of warriors goes on and on. With help from our vital coaches, Coach Thornton and Coach Weldon, new members such as Reet, Roshan, and Chris Crawley will continue to improve for years to come. Leading this team has been a privilege and an honor, and I am sure the team will find just as much success next year, under the reign of Captain Ben Hargrave. Go Red Rocketeers!

This past season was a year of firsts for the hockey team. It was the first winning season in the history of the team. It was the first time we had ever made the playoffs. We also recorded the first playoff win in the team's history, and a record 12 regular season wins. We were a very tight-knit group as we started preparing for the season with captains practices before the season began. We won the first game of the season against Oliver Ames, and the wins just kept coming. At the midpoint of the season we were able to put together a six game win streak. One of our proudest memories however was clinching a playoff spot on Senior Night against King Philip. We will also always remember the overtime win in the playoffs against Dedham to secure the program's first ever tournament win. We had a great senior class, but the underclassmen also proved themselves in big situations. A special thanks to the Rowdy Crowd, and never forget the "Year of the Savage".

Tradition continues! North Wrestling celebrated its 25th season in style. The tone was set for the year in early December with a crushing victory over Franklin, 52-19. What followed was a fifteen meet win-streak and the program's 300th Dual Meet victory, earned over Sharon (66-3). This was only possible given the great camaraderie that existed within the team. Soon after, Mike Anderson, Johnny David and the team became Hock Champs. Meanwhile, Shane LeBlanc was setting the all-time record at 138 career wins. For the 12th time in 16 years, the team earned a DII South Sectional title, qualifying 13 wrestlers for states, where captains David and LeBlanc placed and qualified for All-States. Final state rankings placed the team 10th, and for the 16th consecutive year, a top 25 finish. With an overall 20-3, and its 11th MIAA academic award, North Wrestling continues to impress our community.

Since North Attleboro has brought back Gymnastics into the winter sports mix, the team keeps getting stronger with each passing season. This year brought the most gymnasts to the floor for North Attleboro in the past four years. Each gymnast has found her own strength and brought something new to practice every day. We welcomed another coach this year, Debbie Moore, along with our head coach Krissy Carrier. This year brought lots of laughs and memories to be cherished forever. On meet days, we always sported our red jumpsuits since leotards are not exactly school attire. Out of six teams this year, we placed 4th at Hock Championships and had one gymnast, Carly Ebzery, continue on to States. From sleepovers to singing on the bus ride home, we always found ways to bond on a regular basis. Congratulations on everybody's achievements this year! We could not have asked for a better senior year! Thank you all so much and good luck next year! Kick some butt girlies! Love you!

Indoor track had an amazing season. Not only did our team place third in the Hockomock League meet and beat Mansfield, but we were also the Division II State Relay Champions and the Division II State Champions. These titles were the result of hard work from every single girl on the team. Countless records were broken this season, and many girls even advanced to nationals.

Our team is a family; everyone on the team loves and supports each other. The seniors all did an amazing job of leading the team to innumerable victories and accomplishments. This senior class has been relied on to score points on the team since our freshman year, and it was an amazing feeling to be the class to lead us to a state championship. We could not have done that without our amazing MVP Sydney Bennett and our fleet of hard working girls. We are so proud to hand off our batons to next year's captains Hannah McCarthy, Sydney Bennett, and Meghan Mullen.

Peace, love, and lax! Throughout our 2012 season a multitude of memories and friendships were created on and off the field. With our d-braids, half-calfs, and our game 7s, we were able to show how our intimidation led to successful seasons to come. Our hard work and determination was shown through our sportsmanship rather than our record. By the end of the season we improved greatly and created a bond through team dinners, tie dying parties, and the Alex Blase wiffleball tournament we participated in. We overcame a lot of set backs, but in the end we pushed through and made the season successful. Thank you for the great memories this season; they will never be forgotten. The 2012 North Attleboro lacrosse season was a turning point for the program. Our performance during the second year of a new coaching regime showed that Big Red is a force to be reckoned with in the Hock. Right off the bat we established ourselves as a new lacrosse power by starting the season with three straight wins. While our momentum eventually subsided, we nevertheless realized that we were capable of competing with any team in the state. Our thirst to win this year stemmed from the construction of a new attitude under the helm of Coach Young, who entertained us all with his often bizarre, Harry Potterreferencing, sideline speeches and our senior leaders who instituted new plays like Syracuse and Virginia. Best of luck next year as the underclassmen look to carry the positive momentum into next

It was a record breaking season for the 2012 varsity softball team. Despite the tough schedule, we finished the regular season with a 16-4 record, breaking the school record for most regular season wins.

The team worked very hard during the preseason to prepare for the tough Hockomock league in competition. The season began strong beating two state ranked teams, Mansfield and Taunton. The shutout victory over Mansfield was the first time we beat Mansfield in five years. The team worked hard at practice every day and continued the season with strong and consistent pitching and defense. Everyone in the lineup contributed to the team's success throughout the season. We made the MIAA State Tournament for the 6th year in a row and were ranked 6th, earning us a first round bye and home field advantage. After beating New Bedford in extra innings we left school early to travel to Sandwich where we won 3-0 and advanced to the Semi-Finals. We fought hard for 12 innings but came up a little short, losing 4-3 to Bridgewater-Raynham.

As Captains, we are very proud of our team's success. We know that each player has worked hard to make herself, and the team, better. We wish the team the best in the upcoming years. Hopefully they will continue making a name for the North Attleboro Varsity Softball team.

As the reigning Hockomock champs, players and coaches alike expected 2012 to be a very successful season. Led by a talented group of seniors, we went into the first week determined to carry on North baseball's winning tradition. After a bumpy start, dropping games to Mansfield and Taunton, we topped Attleboro to initiate a seven game winning streak. Our depth on the mound and our explosive hitting made us a force to be reckoned with in the extremely competitive Hock. We then fought through the rest of the regular season to bring us to an impressive 13-7 record. A first round tournament loss to Silver Lake ended our very memorable season. The seniors wish the best of luck to the returning players and coaches for the 2013 season. Carry on the Red Rock baseball tradition.

This season has been incredible; we have such a great tennis team. Our Varsity players led us to victory in almost all of our matches and made it possible for us to win the Hockomock Championship. With the help of our great leader, Coach Burgess, we beat our long time rivals King Philip 5-0 securing our spot as the Hock League Champs. Our one battle this year was Foxborough. We lost 2-3 but we did not go down without a fight; Sarabth Parent gained a set on a girl whom no one else in the league has managed to get more than a few points on.

In what was supposed to be a transition year for North Attleboro Boys Tennis, the team garnered a 12 win season, finishing 2nd in the Kelly-Rex Division of the Hockomock League. Many different players contributed to the successful season for the team with Senior Captain Colin Sexton, Junior Ethan Reddington, and Junior Mukundh Nair rounding out the singles lineup. Contributing to the doubles lineup were Freshman Anthony Rinaldi and Sophomore Hayden Miller teaming up as 1st doubles and Senior Captain Doug Stonis and Senior Matt Wiseman playing at 2nd with contributions from Junior Mike Brule. Everyone in the varsity lineup contributed to the team greatly with big wins against league opponents Mansfield and Franklin. As an inexperienced team heading into this year, North Attleboro Tennis achieved great success on the courts.

There is only one word that comes to mind when we think about this season: Amazing. We had an extremely talented group of athletes ranging from freshmen to seniors, who helped contribute to our success. We went undefeated 7-0 and had a great run at the championship. We were able to keep Mansfield at bay for another win and the title of Hockomock League Champs. We were also able to win the state relays thanks to key placements in the shuttle hurdles, shot put, 4x 800m, and many other events. Unfortunately, we came up short placing second at states thanks to a lack of pole vault. We had such an amazing season, one that will be remembered forever. We would like to thank the team for being so awesome and amazing and making this season so enjoyable for everyone. Good luck next year girls!

The 91st annual Fisher-Kelley Banquet was held at the Attleboro Elks Golden Antler Room on Thursday May 24, 2012. The Class of 2012 turned out one hundred and thirty eight athletes who were individually recognized by Coaches Feid and Herber for their athleticism and sportsmanship. The evening was facilitated by beloved trainer "Mitch" and featured remarks from Superintendent Cullen and Athletic Director Kummer along with a comprehensive Fisher-Kelly history from teacher and coach Don Johnson. Special guest speaker Patriot Patrick Chung recounted his modest Jamaican upbringing with the message to be ready for every opportunity and do your best to make good life decisions. Mr. Rick Leco spoke of Rocketeer days past which led into awarding the first Kenneth Pickering Memorial Scholarship to Jake Connelly by Pickering's wife and daughter. The evening ended with the presentation of the Daniel M. DeYoung Award and the Maurice D. Grant Award to Zoe LaClair and Ty Sweeney.

Homecoming Dance

This year was the year homecoming made a comeback. It started in the Pickering Gymnasium where the freshmen experienced their first high school rally. The school spirit was tangible to everyone in the room as grades and classmates competed against each other in various activities. After all the friendly competitions, the students were pumped up and ready to challenge other schools in all the homecoming games that day. The school gathered again on the bleachers that night but this time as a whole, cheering on the football team. Never were the stands so filled with red as when the Red Rocketeers and the Stoughton Knights went head to head. The homecoming court was called out at halftime and the rowdy crowd, band, and cheerleaders worked together to support the team. The game went into the first overtime in Rocketeer history. After a blocked field goal and a successful two pt conversion, North was able to pull off the win. The school celebrated that Saturday night at the the homecoming dance back in the gym. The turnout was impressive especially compared to years past. The spirit of homecoming reemerged stronger and better than ever. -Erin Mullaney

Homecoming Rally

The tradition of the Homecoming Rally is one filled with spirit and passion, along with a little friendly rivalry between classes. This year's rally was no different. The day was full of hallway and cafeteria decorations, painted faces and a whole lot of smack talk. As the gym welcomed in the student population, its four corners became illuminated by the seniors' red and black, the juniors' blue and white, the sophomores' green and the freshmen's yellow. As the noise level peaked, the band delivered a great performance, followed by the cheerleaders' impressive routine that would win them a New England championship. Big Red's captains represented their respective sports in the traditional hula-hoop contest, in which cross country captain Hannah Fisher took home the title of the school's elite hula-hoop champion. The final event of the day, the tug of war, featured the senior and junior class in a championship showdown, one that would result in a junior class victory. As the Homecoming rally concluded, the honor of Homecoming King and Queen was presented to Ryan Geehan and Erin Mullaney. -Paul Norris

Big Red Country's notorious red and white colors painted the scene at this year's Thanksgiving Day Rally. Lockers were lecorated, ceilings were covered and the gym was soon filled with students chanting in unison for their varsity football eam. Individual speeches were given by team captains Anthony Plante, Paul Norris and Will Kummer, followed by a slide how presenting the senior football players and cheerleaders. The marching band, led by senior Jessica Chen, successfully aspired the crowd as they had all year with another one of their dynamic performances. Also taking place was the annual pririt Contest, in which the senior class shattered the opposition to claim its status as the 2011 Spirit Contest Champion. The puild-up of school spirit had its desired effect as the Red Rocketeers defeated the Attleboro Blue Bombardiers the following lay, 14-7. The Hilda Trophy stays home in Big Red Country. -Paul Norris

The 2011 Powderpuff game was one of the most competitive games our school has ever had. It was also the only one in the school's history to go into official overtime. The Senior Sharks were determined to keep their reign alive after an amazing win last year. Meanwhile, the Junior Jets wanted to prove how good they really were. As the game was about to start, both teams entered the field and the crowd could feel the tension brewing between the two rivals. Both Junior and Senior defenses held their ground until the very end. In the last minutes of the game, the ball was turned back over to the Senior Sharks who had one last chance to win. On 3rd down the Senior Sharks were able to blow through the Junior Jets' defense and into the end zone for the win! The excitement and pride could be felt through the air as the Senior Sharks stormed the field and chanted, "I Believe..." -Jessica daSilva & Mikaela Caracciolo

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The annual Craft Fair, run by the North Attleboro chapter of the National Honor Society, was another resounding success this year. Crafters from as far away as Maine flocked to NAHS on November 19th to display their one-of-a-kind crafts. From handmade bracelet charms to exotic wolf shirts, craft fair shoppers had a wide selection of products to choose from. Over 65 tables were set up between the Pickering Gymnasium, Main Lobby, and Senior Hallway, each with vibrant displays and friendly greetings to compliment the assorted crafts. The success of the 2011 Fair was all thanks to the hard work of the National Honor Society members and the guidance of Ms. Sullivan and Ms. Rice. All of the NHS members and the 2011 crafters agree: the 2012 Fair will have high expectations to meet! -NHS President Ty Sweeney

SPANISH NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The French and Spanish National Honor

Societies (or Société Honoraire de Français and Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica) both had a very successful year. Students are admitted to these societies for having shown a dedication to their language, maintaining a high grade average, and demonstrating excellence of character. When inducted, students must state their society's motto: the FNSH motto is "L'homme qui sait deux languages en vaut deux," or "He who speaks two languages is worth two men," and the SNHS motto is "Todos a Una," or "All as one." The hard work completed by the students shows that everyone took these oaths to heart.

floth societies work hard to promote their languages by having their members teach. For example, many of the members were tutors during the school day for NAHS students needing help in a language class. Others chose to volunteer as "teachers" after school at Allen Avenue School. This program ran for six weeks and introduced many elementary students to a foreign inguage for the first time. Students from the Spanish and French societies had to devise lesson plans and engage their tudents, and all classes were huge successes. Clearly, the students of FNHS and SNHS showed their hard work and dedication developed the school year and have motivated future members to build on these achievements. -Foreign Language Society President Molly Hillis

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year Student Council helped the Red Cross hold two blood drives, one in the fall and one in the spring. Each blood drive allowed about fifty students to sign up to donate their blood, providing more than 100 pints of blood and saving over 300 lives. Student Council members took on the responsibility of distracting the donors, whether they were a first or twelfth-time donor. Reading books like Wacky the Penguin, or casually talking while giving blood, caused the donors to forget about their worries and quickly fill a pint size bag of blood. Other members there took on the role of checking the students in, patrolling the snack table, cleaning up leftover wrappers, and most importantly watching to make sure everyone felt okay. Along with the blood drive, Student Council raised money for breast cancer earlier in the year, sold Valentine's Day lollipops for scholarship money, and helped give back to OpZOmism, a fundraiser helping Zoe McMorran. -Delaney Smith

he School Council works to improve lorth Attleboro High School and bring to its full potential. Each month, the puncil meets to work on school improvement plans, budgets, etc. Principal Scott Holcomb heads the council. Community epresentatives, parents, teachers, and students also attend the meetings. This year, the teachers included Kathy Cavedon, Maura ullivan, Anne Marie McGrail, and Ed Shockro. Parents on the council include Bonnie O'Neill, Aimee Williamson, Mike Carbone, and Jim Treadway. The Community Representatives are Deb Mark and Sharon Meehan. Students on the council are Caroline aller, Jessica Chen, Kate Kummer, Ethan Reddington, Keaton White, and Zoe LaClair. Each representative serves two years on the ouncil. The School Council connects the school to the community and works to develop more relationships with the town of lorth Attleboro. -Jessica Chen

MORNING LEADERSHIP TEAM The Morning Leadership Team is a group that meets on the solution of t

the MLT has taken a more active community service role at NAHS. Over February and April vacation, members of the came into school to paint over the second floor walls. The walls hadn't been painted since the 1970s and were in direct of some TLC. The project required a lot of dedication and effort from the students, which included cleaning the walls, primer on them, and then painting them. There is no better way to describe the Morning Leadership Team than as a product of students who are even willing to come in during vacation to help their school. -Keaton White

PEER LEADERS During the 2011-12 school year, Peer Leaders continued to grow as a volunteer based group in NAHS. In the fall, they took on such big events as the Special Olympics and the Allen Ave Fair. The group also helped out with cleaning up the gym, halls and field after the Thanksgiving Day Rally and Football game. Peer Leaders continue to take on volunteer opportunities at Madonna Manor and throughout the school, and the group as a whole works hard in making the school a better place to be. -Caroline Adler

YMCA LEADERS The YMCA leaders is a group that lets students take part in many volunteer opportunities in the community and learn the four core values of the YMCA: Caring, Honesty, Respect, and Responsibility. We help fundraise and volunteer throughout the community. Leaders love being involved, and giving back is our main priority. Our group, led by the Executive Board: Jordan Badger, Emily Warner, Jess daSilva, and Ashley Smith, meets every week to discuss upcoming events. We participate in major events such as Healthy Kids Day, Senior Spectacular, and the Autism Speaks Walk. At our meetings we also participate in "values" activities that emphasize the four core values of the YMCA. The environment created contains many different personalities but also provides a support system. We create close bonds and make friends that will last a lifetime. - E-Board

GYM LEADERS

The Gym Leaders this year showed off their leadership, athleticism, and enthusiasm. They enjoyed participating in various activities including volleyball, ultimate frisbee, and the ever popular pickleball. The senior gym leaders provided quality assistance to the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen to help them improve their skills. They also helped show the meaning of being a leader and the importance of being a team player. Thank you to Mr. Ames, Mr. Perron, and Mrs. Charette for such an awesome year! - Jordan Badger

LEO CLUB

Leo Club is a new club this year headed by Mr. Ames. After voting in President Hannah McCarthy, Vice President Lauren Shanahan, Secretary Bridget Costello, and Treasurer Meghan Brandley, we were set to accomplish many goals. Leo Club gives students leadership opportunities and the chance to become involved in the community. We sought to complete community service projects in small groups, each under the direction of its own leader. Some projects we worked on included cleaning up WWI park and offering babysitting services during parent teacher conferences. At the induction ceremony, over 50 high school students were inducted in the high school's first ever Leo Club. We hope to continue our success, grow as a club, and help out our community even more in the years to come. - Lauren Shanahan

ONE FAN OneFAN is a tri-school coalition started by the principals of Bishop Feehan, Attleboro, and North Attleboro High Schools in 2008. The organization is dedicated to raising 2,500 dollars each year for the Edward Tedesco Christmas Dinner and for local food pantries. OneFAN aids students in looking past the rivalries between the schools to come together in an effort to better our community. OneFAN hosts and organizes a semi-annual dodge ball tournament between North Attleboro, Attleboro, and Bishop Feehan High Schools. Trophies made by OneFAN member Caroline Adler are awarded to the winners of the boys and girls brackets. -Meghan Cupp

DEBATE TEAM The Debate team is a small club in which students engage in mock debates about important and current topics. Students choose a topic of relevance they wish to debate and begin to conduct in depth research of the topic. Club members argue for or against a certain topic with skill and carefully worded phrases in an attempt to dismantle the argument of the opposing team. Sometimes our debates can get a little heated, but we try to adhere to the rules of a real debate. The debate club allows students a place where they can feel comfortable talking about current events and voicing their opinions without judgment. We hope that club membership will continue to grow in the coming years. -Francesco Viscusi successful year under the leadership of officers Anthony DiGiantommaso, Zoe LaClair, Lauren Shanahan, Nicole Tillinghast, and Forrest Soule along with the help of our adviser Ms. Rice. S.A.D.D. stands for Students Against Destructive Decisions and educates students about the challenges that some high school kids face. The topics we discussed ranged from drugs and alcohol to eating healthy and from bullying to managing stress. We tried to come up with fun ways to discuss these topics at our monthly meetings such as skits, bingo, and posters. Everyone was able to have a good time and then enjoy some of the juice and cookies Ms. Rice always brought. The meetings had good turnouts that included a cast of regulars along with some new faces every month. We hope that next year's officers have the same fun and success that we were able to. -S.A.D.D. ROCKET CORNER

SADD S.A.D.D. had another

Rocket Corner is the school store that sells a variety of equipment for North Attleboro High School students. From sweatshirts and sweatpants to rally gear, the store is always filled with new things. The Rocket Corner store is open during all three lanches in order to provide each student a chance to buy attire and accessories. Working at the Rocket Corner allows students a unique opportunity to meet their peers. None of this would be possible without the help of our adviser, Ms. Barish. -Jane Th beault

MORNING ANNOUNCEMENTS

Good Morning North Attleboro High School! This year you heard the voices o your classmates Kimberly Hallahan and Keaton White over the announcements every day. Each day we started with leading the Pledge of Allegiance and ended with that day's lunch menu. We reported on the vital occurrences of our school such as whether there was an upcoming play, coffeehouse, or warehoused classes. The announcements never got dull, as every day we dealt with intercom problems and even talking right through the bell, extending homeroom for another ten minutes when we didn't even know it (nobody complained about that one). Next year we will pass this duty down to a different National Honor Society member who will carry on the tradition. -Keaton White

SCAR

Throughout the past school year S.C.A.R., or Student Coalition Against Racism, has continued to run as a strong group in NAHS making the school and community a better place. This year the club continued its monthly meetings while also volunteering at multiple events. Members of S.C.A.R. helped out at the Rachel's Challenge Event in March and also had many members take part in the Kony Cover the Night event in April. S.C.A.R. also got the chance to participate in the Stand Up to Bullying 2011 rally which was held in Boston in December. S.C.A.R. and its members had a positive impact on the school and continues to grow. -Caroline Adler

PROJECT TEAMMATE

Project Teammate is a group of students who spend their SLPs working with students in the school's Bi-County Collaborative program. The students work together aiding with subjects from Math to English and form strong bonds throughout the year. Project Teammate members also go beyond the academics and learn a lot about both the students and themselves. In the Spring the Teammates helped out at the Special Olympics. It was a great year and all of the students had a wonderful time.

FRIENDLY FACES

Friendly Faces is a group that helps new students transition into North Attleboro High School. Members of Friendly Faces are responsible for making new students feel comfortable by offering them a table to eat lunch at or just by being a "friendly face" in the hallways. Entering into a new school is difficult. It is always extremely helpful and nice to have a friend to guide the new student and offer assistance whenever it is needed. We feel that every student that walks through these hallways should have a helping hand. That is why Friendly Faces is so important. -Jane Thibeault

FRIDAY MORNING PRAYER GROUP

The Friday Morning Prayer Group was formed this year for students who want to share prayers with one another. We welcome any religion with open arms and likewise pray for anything or anyone, from schoolwork to ill loved ones. The goal of this group is to provide a loving and comforting support group to the high school students who need it.

YOUTH ALIVE

Youth Alive is a brand new club to the high school this year. We meet once a week in our adviser Mr. Shockro's room. The club is focused on encouraging one another in our everyday walk with Christ. We have a wonderful time of fellowship, listening to music, watching video clips, praying with one another, and discussing how to deal with everyday situations we face. We strive to show others Christ's love through our simple actions. We look at God and religion in a whole new way and have discovered just how much God cares for us. We are a generation who want to stand up and make a change in our school! -Jennifer McGrady

HEAL

Helping Each Other After Loss was established this year by junior Emily Braun. Emily asked Mrs. Nasiff to be the group's adviser, and with Mr. Flanagan coadvising, the group was able to organize several fundraisers for those in our community and abroad. With Mrs. Bresson's connections and Chris O'Neil's work experience, the group was able to raise over a thousand dollars for Zoe McMorran. Overall, we had a very successful year! -Patrick Conley

RACHEL'S CHALLENGE Although most of us were too young to remember the Columbine High School tragedy, the impact lives on through the Rachel's Challenge presentation. Rachel was the first victim of the shootings, and Rachel's Challenge is both a tribute to her life and a message of hope for all. The entire high school squeezed into the Pickering Gymnasium to view the motivational presentation. The presentation left a large impression on the student and faculty audience as we learned of Rachel's ideals and were each challenged to become a better person. Rachel's Challenge was available to all community members, allowing everyone the chance to become inspired and accept Rachel's challenge.

MOCK ACCIDENT This year, thanks to the collaboration of the NAHS Theatre Company, Dyer Lake Funeral Home, NAPD, and NAFD, the senior parking lot was the scene of the Mock Accident. Juniors and Seniors gathered around the wreckage outside the school to watch how an accident might unfold immediately after impact. Theatre E-Board members acted out the scene, and the arrival of real fire trucks and police vehicles added to the solemnity of the situation. The most forceful part of the presentation was when a hearse provided by Dyer Lake Funeral Home arrived at the scene and carried away one of our fellow students in a body bag. The presentation was designed to highlight the dangers of reckless driving habits. This presentation was one that both the Senior and Junior classes will never forget. -Francesco Viscusi

Project Unite is a group involved with the Special Olympics Day Games in May. In this group, students from North Attleboro, Attleboro, and Bishop Feehan come together to voice their ideas for the event and volunteer at the event itself in May. BEST PALS

Best Pals is a group of friendly, helpful students who dedicate their SLP's to working with the special education classes. This year, there were many students interested in joining the group who wanted to help in whatever way they could. The Best Pal members help the students from academics to cooking and always help put smiles on the students' faces. This year on the day before winter break, the Best Pals and the special education classes watched movies and bonded. Every moment spent with these students brings smiles, laughter, and memories that will never be forgotten. -Coryn Maher

RECYCLING

The recycling staff is an amazing group of students. They work together once a week in order to make the high school a cleaner and greener place by recycling. Each week they collect the recycling bins, pour the trash into large receptacles, and put them in place for them to be emptied. No matter the time or place, each and every student works with a smile on his or her face. Their hard work, cheerfulness, and dedication make them well liked by everyone. As a school, we would like to thank them for all the time they put into making NAHS a better place! -Jane Thibeault

LAB LEADERS

The AP Biology lab leaders are a group of seniors who dedicate their free time to working in the science lab, preparing trays for Mr. Duluk's amazing AP Biology class. Being AP Biology alumni ourselves, we were able to understand the importance and purpose of all the labs and their preparation, with which we were able to help the current students learn. Using the right techniques and carefully preparing solutions of broth and agar, we assembled enough trays for his classes. We worked hard to make sure the AP Biology students received the same great experience that we had in our biology labs. This experience has prepared us immensely for college because all the techniques and materials we used will definitely be seen again. Thank you Mr. Duluk for giving us the opportunity to learn these skills for the future. —Jessica daSilva

SCIENCE CLUB

This year, the Science Club continued to study subjects like chemistry and physics through fun experiments and demonstrations. Under the excellent guidance of Ms. Cochrane, its members saw things like underwater fireworks and smashing cinder blocks. Science Club also continued its tradition of bringing exciting science to the middle school with its Physics is Fun workshop on Heritage Day. This and other events, such as tie-dying T-shirts, are what made Science Club so popular this year. -Catherine Pasquine science fair is always a success at NAHS, and this year was no exception. Under the advisement of Mr. Hatzberger, there were many interesting and indepth projects entered into the fair. One look around the Media Center, and anyone could tell that all the students worked long and hard to produce amazing projects. This year there were projects such as testing sound waves with glass bottles, building a Faraday cage to test the effect of electromagnetic waves on plant growth, and even a functioning hovercraft! Middle school science teachers, current high school teachers like Mr. Duluk, and even Mr. Holcomb judged the students on their creativity, level of research and depth, and scientific accuracy to decide which projects were deserving of awards. Many students qualified for the Region III Science Fair at Bristol Community College, and George Condon, Michaela Meekins, and Jackson Riseman went to the Massachusetts State Science and Engineering Fair at MIT. It's plain to see that science fair is a place where the best and the brightest of North Attleboro come together to showcase their research, which makes it an extremely rewarding and eye-opening experience for all. -Nicole Chahwan

MATH LEAGUE Hoo-rah! The mathletes of North Attleboro High School came out with another strong season this year. Finishing in second place behind Mansfield, Math League accumulated an efficient 81 points in six contests. Behind strong leadership and motivation from the infamous cheer, the Math League made Mrs. Marcotte very proud. Solving tough functions, patterns, and radicals, this year's mathletes were very motivated and talented, adding up to a great year for the Math League. Finishing this season on a high note with a perfect score, this team deserves one last HOORAH! -Math League Captain Colin Sexton

the Odyssey of the Mind program is among one of the highest caliber clubs that the school has to offer, focusing on creative problem solving involving mechanical and theatrical elements. Pioneered at the Middle School and now in its second year at the High School, twenty-two students competed on four different teams, each one tasked with solving a different problem over the course of the school year in order to show their solutions at the Massachusetts state tournament in March. The four problems vary; two teams were focused heavily on mechanical aspects while the other two needed to develop skits with specific requirements. At the state competition, each of the four teams qualified to attend World Finals at lowa State University, where they are given the chance to compete against teams from over thirty five countries who solved the same problems in their own unique ways. North Attleboro has been fortunate enough to send teams to World Finals for the past three years, including NAHS students in 2011. Odyssey opens a myriad of doors for students, allowing them to express their creativity and learn from their mistakes and failures all while learning valuable teamwork and leadership skills. NAHS Odyssey has been successful in years past and will continue to grow and succeed in those to come.

CAREER EXPLORATION

The Career Explorations Club, led by Kristen Barenthaler and

Melissa Mirza, is designed to expose its members to the many different career opportunities in life. It allows students to investigate a variety of careers they might be interested in pursuing after high school. To help educate students, various guest speakers share their own personal experiences in their fields. They tell students about the different aspects of their careers in a way that helps students to determine what they might want to look into for their future. Beneficial for students of all grade levels, this club helps students expand their knowledge of career opportunities. - Alexandra Harbour

YEARBOOK The Northern Light Yearbook team has been working hard to complete the yearbook by our deadlines. The Yearbook staff has been busy taking photos, writing club stories, and labeling captions for pictures. With the end of the year fast approaching, the Yearbook office is abuzz with editors and staff trying to complete sections. This year Mrs. Pasquine took charge of the Yearbook after Mrs. Lush's retirement and is an excellent Yearbook adviser. We could not have made such a great yearbook without her dedication to the publication. - Francesco Viscusi

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Young Democrats Club is a group of students aligned with or interested in the beliefs and activities of the Democratic Party. Meeting every other Tuesday in Mr. Elwood's room, we discuss the issues of the day as well as topics about the Obama administration and the upcoming election. The group was founded by Stephen Lunde, who served as its president last year. Its current president is John Costello. -John Costello

TEENAGE REPUBLICANS This was the

Teenage Republicans Club's second year at North. We are grateful for the help from our advisers, the Attleboro City Councilor, Mr. Kirby, and Mrs. Violette. This past summer, the club hosted a conference for Teenage Republicans clubs from across New England. Members also participated in the 2012 Republican Presidential Primary Election by working for various Presidential campaigns in New Hampshire, including running one candidate's national teen outreach organization. The club has been involved with various political campaigns, attended events, volunteered, and heard from guest speakers, including Reps. Betty Poirier and Dan Winslow. -Patrick Reynolds

MODEL SENATE

The Model Senate is a club that discusses curren events and their potential effects on the future. Once a year, many students meet for the Hockomock Model Senate. This year, our students will attend the conference and will participate in activities regarding how bills are passed in Congress. This conference is designed to be a mock-up of how the United States Senate operates on a daily basis. As one of the school's few non-athletic clubs that competes within the Hockomock league, it provides all students with the chance to challenge opponents from other high schools in a political setting. It also allows students to become more aware of how our government operates and affects each individual person. -Paula Robinson

CONCERT BAND

The Concert Band is an integral part of the high school's music department. The 52-person group performs at several concerts each year and competes in the Massachusetts Instrumental and Choral Conductors' Association Festival. This spring the concert band earned its third consecutive gold medal at MICCA and was invited to play at the prestigious Mechanics Hall in Worcester. To quote the group's director, Mr. Rizzo, the band's gold medals are "the real-life MCAS - this is where we show the community the skills we possess to excel." -Dana Brown

CONCERT CHOIR

Concert Choir has had another fantastic year! Under the direction of Mr. Robert Couture, we are now a chorus of over fifty people. We study vocal anatomy and technique, rhythm, and pitch. We learn a variety of genres from gospel to pop to classical. Some of our songs include "The Promise Land," "Zum Gali," "And So It Goes," and "Set Me as a Seal". This year we have made huge improvements which earned us a silver medal at the Massachusetts Instrumental and Choral Conductors Association Festival in Norwood, Massachusetts. We hope to become even larger and stronger next year! -Erin Caster

JAZZ BAND I

The North Attleboro High School Jazz Band rehearses Monday nights from 6 to 8pm. This is the only auditioned instrumental ensemble and is a traditional jazz band. In jazz band, our musicians learn theory and improvisational techniques to improve our ability to play jazz. This year, the jazz band entered the Massachusetts Association for Jazz Education Competition where we performed "Miss Missouri," "Bye Bye Blackbird," and "Bradley's Groove Shop" and earned a silver medal. Jazz band also performs at the Winter and Spring Concerts. At the end of the year we go to Roosevelt and the Early Learning Center to play music to the kids. As each year passes, the NAHS jazz band continues to meet and surpass the standards given to them. -Colleen Regan

JAZZ BAND II

New this year to North Attleboro High School is Jazz Band II. They meet every Wednesday night under the direction of Mr. Rizzo to hone their skills. Like the other jazz band, the group studies the basics of jazz including improvisation, blues scales, and theory. They particularly focus on soloing and understanding their complex music. Jazz Band II culminated the year with a performance at the high school's Fine Art Festival. -Jane Thibeault of all the different groups and insembles in North Attleboro High chool's Music Department, the narching band has the most interaction with the school and ommunity. Performing at pep rallies, ootball games, and parades, the narching band has become an important part of North's spirit. The group starts its rehearsals in the ummer where form and drills are epeated and perfected for a flawless ummer where form and drills are epeated and perfected for a flawless performance on the field. This year, the marching band played songs from Aladdin, including 'One Jump Ahead," "A Whole New World," and "Friend Like Me." Although the fall season came to an end, the marching band's responsibilities continued, including performing at the santa Parade, Memorial Day Parade, and the NATO Festival in Norfolk, VA. There is no doubt that this group will soar to greater heights under the direction of Mr. Rizzo and future drum najors. Keep North's fighting spirit and pride alive! -Drum Major Jessica Chen

PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE The North Attleboro High School Percussion Ensemble is a group of radical teens under the tutelage of a certain Swede referred to as Anders Johann Benson. This group meets every Tuesday night to work on improving their rhythmic abilities. In support of Mr. Benson's teaching, his three protégés, Adam Gifford, Wesley Nicholls, and Adam Whitney, are helpful in aiding the other students. The group showed off its work by performing at the school concerts and competing in Virginia. This year's songs included "Cymbalectomy," "El Caribe," "Blue Rondo a la Turk," and "Smash Getaway." -Adam Gifford and Adam Whitney

WOMEN'S CHOIR

Women's Choir is a new auditioned vocal ensemble at North Attleboro High School. They meet once a week throughout the school year to prepare for their competition in Virginia and the Massachusetts Instrumental and Choral Conductors Association Festival where this year they won a silver medal. They sing music ranging from classical Italian to pop, including "Set Fire to The Rain," "Johnny Said No," "Nigra Sum," and "Red Red Rose." -Jane Thibeault

CONTEMPORARY CHOIR

Contemporary choir is an auditioned choral group under the direction of Mr. Couture. We meet every Thursday after school in the theater. The group focuses on learning and performing contemporary music from Bon Jovi to Katy Perry. We perform songs such as "Earth Song", "Firework," and "Hold On" at our Winter Concert and Spring Fine Arts Festival. Everyone in the group has fun working and singing together. -Hayley Sheaff

DISTRICTS AND ALL-STATES

Each year, North Attleboro High School students are encouraged to audition to become a part of the Southeastern Massachusetts District Choir and Concert Band. Students may audition for Senior Districts, grades 9-12 or Junior Districts, grades 6-9. This year many of our students scored high enough to make it into these ensembles. Students with high enough scores are recommended to audition for the Massachusetts All-State Band and Choir. We were fortunate enough to have two instrumentalists, Adam Gifford for percussion and Marissa Gifford on trumpet, earn two of these recommendations. For the chorus Sydney Lambert, Jonathan LaMothe, Hayley Sheaff, and Jane Thibeault received recommendations and participated in the 2012 All-State Chorus. On top of all that, Sydney Lambert received an All-Eastern recommendation! -Jane Thibeault

COFFEEHOUSE CREW

The NAHS Coffee House is a student run organization that provides donations to local, national, and international charities. Run by high school students, the Coffee House takes place on Friday nights once a month and is a great place for students to enjoy a fantastic night of music, friends, food and fun! Since its foundation, the Coffee House has raised over $40,000.00 for charities such as Doctors Without Borders, the New Hope Foundation, Toys for Tots and many more! For anyone who loves to play or listen to music, the NAHS Coffee House is the place to be! -Allison Krasner

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB This year, a small group of students with a common interest in photography came together to form the Photography club. The purpose of the Photography club is to help students with an interest in the art of photography develop good photo taking skills. A main component of the club involves different perspectives and finding the best angle to take a picture from. This club allows its members to experiment with the different photo taking techniques and photo editing software that many professional photographers use. We hope the Photography Club continues to be a place where budding photographers and photo enthusiasts can come and learn about the art of photography. -Francesco Viscusi

This year, Art Club has continued to showcase our talents throughout the school. We have spent many hours completing previous murals, like the Theatre Department mural, and have also started new murals, like The Learning Center's. We worked hard planning and putting together the Art Show / Coffeehouse in order to raise money for the Art Department. The Spring Art Show was also a success, showcasing our paintings, sketches, photography, and sculptures. There was always something to be done every Thursday after school in room 117. A big thank you to Mr. Flanagan, the Art Club Adviser, for putting everything together. Anyone and everyone was always welcome in the Art Club and always enjoyed their time with us. Thank you to everyone for another great year! -Emily Fortier

THEATRE COMPANY

The NAHS Theatre Company had another great year in 2011-2012. We kicked off the year with an incredible production of "The Outsiders," based on the book by S.E. Hinton. The performance, including much newfound talent, had the audience both laughing and crying and set a great tone for the rest of the year. The One Act Play Festival came in the winter, where three dedicated student directors worked to put on comedies that had the audience in stitches, making it difficult for them to cast their votes for the annual awards. Finally, the spring musical 'Lucky Stiff" came. The Theatre Company once again proved its diversity and talent with this new style of musical, where many of the actors played multiple roles to keep the audience on its toes! The seniors can feel very accomplished with this successful year; we've set the bar high for the students of next year. -Molly Hillis

THESPIAN SOCIETY

The International Thespian Society recognizes excellence in the dramatic arts, where inductees must have an outstanding record in both acting and technical work. Students have to complete 100 hours of work, either 80 hours of acting and 20 of tech work or the reverse. Part of the induction process includes performing a silly task as created by the Thespian inducting a new member. The NAHS troupe, Troupe 1088, inducted eight new members this year, showing the great dedication the students have to the theatre company. -Molly Hillis

FALL PLAY: THE OUTSIDERS

The show began with junior Wesley Dunham, playing Ponyboy Curtis, giving a background story. He spoke of the war between the Socs (Socials), and the Greasers and was confronted by two Socs, Bob, played by junior Robert Boulanger, and Randy, played by sophomore Daniel Kiely. After they were scared off, his friends, Johnny, played by Mahmoud El-Zeftawy, Two-Bit, played by sophomore Nicholas Samuel, and Dallas, played by sophomore Daniel Dyer, and family, Sodapop, played by senior Patrick Conley, and Darry, played by sophomore Dillon Brown, came to his aid. Later on, Ponyboy and his friends met up with some Soc girls, Cherry, played by sophomore Marie Fournier, and Marcia, played by senior Erin Kayata. This very dramatic show ends after a battle between the Greasers and the Socs. Ms. Lisa Forsgard directed the production, with lighting led by Miss Judith E. Cobb. The show had its ups and downs, but we definitely had a lot of fun with it. It was certainly a production we will never forget. To the cast and crew of the show, "Stay Gold." -Wesley Dunham out to lunch.

ONE ACTS

The One Acts Play Festival is a favorite at North Attleboro High School. The night consisted of three comedies: "Dinner with the MacGuffins", "In Facebook Wii Trust" and "13 Ways to Screw up Your College Interview". "Dinner with the MacGuffins", directed by juniors Wesley Dunham and Allison Krasner, follows the adventures of James, played by sophomore Daniel Kiely, as he breaks the 'fourth wall', becomes aware of the audience's presence, and hides his awareness from a secret government agency. Next came "In Facebook Wii Trust", directed by juniors Sydney Lambert and Jessica Kaelblein. It follows John, played by junior Thomas Pettengill, as he tries to explain to a government agent, played by senior Theresa Bertolino, that he is not breaking the law by not using social media all the time. Last but not least came "13 Ways to Screw up Your College Interview", directed by juniors Nicole Roche and Katelyn Minichiello. This show follows two interviewers, played by seniors Skyler Mason and Colleen Regan, as they are forced to admit one more student into the school where they work. Unfortunately, they must interview the waitlisted kids who show the audience what NOT to do during an interview. The show opened successfully thanks to the hard work of all the Theatre members involved. -Nicole Roche his year's production of "Lucky Stiff" urned out to be a wonderful performance for all to enjoy. Starring 'homas Pettengill as Harry Witherspoon ind Shelby Booth as Annabel Glick, the play resulted in two nights of crazy numor with exciting music. The plot evolves around Harry Witherspoon's lesire to earn the inheritance his rich incle, played by Robert Boulanger, left or him. In order to do so, Harry must adhere to a strict set of instructions left by his uncle as part of the will. To receive all of his uncle's money, Harry must travel to Monte Carlo with his uncle's preserved body in a wheelchair. Fortunately for Harry, his uncle took care of all the travel arrangements prior to his death and recorded himself doing all the activities he outlined in his will. If Harry does not comply with the strict itinerary, he will forfeit his right to the inheritance and all money will go to Annabel Glick to benefit a shelter for homeless dogs. With a unique and quirky plot, the show appealed to a wide array of people. Under the direction of Ms. Lisa Forsgard, the Theatre Department pulled together a hugely successful show that everyone could enjoy. -Thomas Pettengill

James O' Rourke shows Thomas Pettengill and Robert Boulanger to a hotel room in Monte Carlo.

Theresa Bertolino confronts Daniel Kiely about traveling to Monte Carlo with her.

n Regan, Jack LaBonte, James O'Rourke, and Laura Goodman look at a telegram for Henry Witherspoon.

Shelby Booth observes quietly in the background of the train to Monte Carlo. She looks for even the slightest deviation from the will so that the dog shelter will receive all the inheritance.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY AWARDS ASSEMBLY

The 2012 National Honor Society Awards Assembly was a success. The whole school gathered in the gym to acknowledge the outstanding academic accomplishments of NAHS students. Awards were handed out that recognized excellence in the core subjects as well as other categories. Students eagerly listened as the names were read off for each award.

Those who heard their names called then had to make a treacherous climb down from the packed bleachers, trying not to fall or step on anyone in the process. In addition to academic achievements, several students were recognized for gaining membership to such groups as the National Honor Society, the Foreign Language National Honor Society, and the International Thespian Society. Also, a select group of students who performed exceptionally well on the National Spanish and French Exams were given medals, (as pictured above), which served as a testament to their mastery of a foreign language. On top of that, there were awards given out that recognized outstanding character and citizenship outside of the classroom. The National Honor Society Awards Assembly is a great way to recognize some of the amazing talent that makes NAHS such a great place to be. -Nevin Lorden

Senior Pron

This year's senior prom was held on May 5, 2012 at the Crowne Plaza in Warwick, Rhode Island. It was appropriately decorated with a Cinco de Mayo and Mardi Gras theme. The boys cleaned up well and looked handsome in their tuxes. Of course, the girls owned the night, looking absolutely stunning in their elegant gowns. Though our DJ was not up to our standards, our meal was excellent with a dessert to die for. Everyone enjoyed putting on goofy faces and posing for the photo booth. The Mr. NAHS boys even remembered their dance and performed it one last time for us. Brendan Burns, Hannah Fisher, Michael Curley, Jordan Badger, Anthony DiGiantommaso, and Natasha Gavilanez were chosen to our prom court, and Keaton White and Brielle Albertini were crowned our 2012 Prom King and Queen. Many memories were made from a night full of dancing and excitement. "Graduation (Friends Forever)" by Vitamin C appropriately ended our night and our last prom together. - Jordan Badger

Mary Feeley, Charity Martin, and Ashlin Treadway all look stunning in their dresses with their hair and makeup done. Though heading in different directions in the fall, these three girls will surely remain friends forever.

Held on March 13th 2012, Mr.NAHS was hosted by Jordan Badger, Laura Malone, and Nichole Sarkis. The boys had very little time to practice, but quickly picked up their group dance choreographed by Lauren Shanahan, Nicole Tillinghast, Meghan Blaisdell, and Sam Cote. On the night of the show, the class officers and advisors were shocked when the theater was packed with only standing room left. The boys executed their dance perfectly and everyone enjoyed seeing them show off their moves to LMFAO's "Sexy and I Know It." The boys then "strutted their stuff" down the runway in their formal and casual wear, each escorted by a gorgeous girl from the senior class. First they answered questions in the Q&A portion. Then they brought the crowd to tears with their talent section. Everyone was laughing and enjoying the skits and songs they performed. While the votes were being counted, the boys performed their dance one last time. Anthony DiGiantommaso, the clear winner of the night with a vast majority of the votes, was proudly crowned Mr.NAHS 2012. Though the event started off rocky, the class officers, advisors and many volunteers joined together and put on a very successful show that no one will forget. - Jordan Badger

Senior Cruise

On June 7, 2012, just one day before their graduation, 75 seniors set sail on "The Spirit of Boston" to take a tour around Boston Harbor. It was a beautiful day with the sun shining high in the sky as the students boarded the boat ready for a stress-free day together. The buffet meal for lunch was comparable to that of a five star restaurant and the fondue for dessert hit the spot. Most everyone spent the afternoon on the top deck basking in the sun and looking over the side of the boat, watching the beautiful view of Boston. As the day winded down, everyone enjoyed dancing on the dance floor located on their own personal floor of the boat. Mr. Holcomb even raffled off two pairs of Dre Beats headphones. Though not many people were interested in the beginning, everyone who went was glad they got the chance to experience a cruise like this. There wasn't a dull moment the whole day as everyone enjoyed laughing and gymnasium excited to begin one of their last assemblies at North Attleboro High School. The day began with a look back on their past four years at NAHS. The class officers read the class history, bringing back memories no one was soon to forget. The senior superlatives were handed down and the yearbook editors announced that the 2012 Northern Light Yearbook would be dedicated to Mr. Duluk. As the assembly came to a close, the seniors got to reminisce on their past 13 years of schooling in the senior slide show. They "oohed" and "ahhed" at their baby pictures and got to relive their childhood through pictures. Though their attempt at a flash mob to the song "Call Me Maybe" wasn't widely successful, the class still enjoyed having fun one last time together. As Informal Class Day ended and the seniors filed out of the gymnasium, they felt prepared for their future without losing their past. - Jordan Badger

Students received recognition for perfect attendance, making honor roll all four years, and for being in the top ten of the graduating class. Senior essayists Elizabeth Blanchard and Molly Hillis gave their own personal outlook on their past four years here at NAHS. The senior vocalists performed "Finale B" from "Rent" as their last farewell to their high school music career. At the end of the night, the students lined the senior hallway to shake hands with the parents, some of whom they hadn't seen since elementary school. Graduation

On June 8, 2012 the Class of 2012 entered North Attleboro High School for the last time as NAHS Seniors. Students met in the cafeteria, taking tons of pictures with the people they will miss the most. As 6pm rolled around, the students lined up in rows of two and marched into their ceremony, held in the Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium due to unfortunate weather. However, the weather didn't put a damper on what will be one of the most memorable days of this class's lives. Students took their seats ready to begin, displaying a sea of red and white. Colton Williamson began the Commencement Ceremony advising the class to do good things for themselves. Valedictorian Meg McHugh told everyone to stay true to themselves, and Salutatorian Ty Sweeney reminded his class that they will always thrive in the red. Superintendent Cullen gave some of the best advice of the night, explaining her three pearls of wisdom. Mr. Holcomb gave each student a compass, explaining that it will always point "true north" and they can always follow it back home. Each student proudly received his/her diploma from Mr. Holcomb and Mr. Frost. As the ceremony came to a close and students moved their tassels from the right side of their cap to the left, they realized that their time at NAHS had truly come to an end. The Class of 2012, though sad to leave, is ready for anything that their futures may throw at them. They are proud to be NAHS Alumni, and they know they couldn't have gotten to where they are today without this high school. - Jordan Badger

The Class of 2012 made a huge impact on NAHS during their four years at the school and will be sure to visit wher they come back to North Attleboro. Many teachers will miss our class but are happy to see we have grown in to such mature individuals.

All Night

Just a few hours after receiving their diplomas, the senior class filled the YMCA ready to enjoy one last night together as a class. The senior parents put countless hours into creating an event full of laughter and final memories. Everyone loved racing each other on the bungee run. A blow-up jousting ring and sumo wrestling suits showed the competitive side of the seniors too. The most popular event, the mechanical bull, proved to be too tough for some, but others rode it like they had been practicing for years. Pickleball courts were also very popular for the seniors. When hypnotist Frank Santos arrived, everyone crammed into Studio A to watch their classmates unknowingly make fools of themselves. Everyone enjoyed getting pictures drawn by caricature artists or their pictures taken with their best friends. Many students even won raffles ranging from Target gift cards to mini fridges and TV's for their dorm rooms. There was tons of food to eat all night long and enough Mountain Dew to keep everyone awake for hours. Everyone was very sad to see the night end because they knew it was really the last time they would all be together. The Class of 2012 is extremely thankful for all the hard work put into creating this night for them and everyone wishes the night hadn't gone by so fast. Though this was their last time together, true friends won't lose touch with each other, and of course they still have summer 2012 to create lasting memories! - Jordan Badger

2012 Editors

Since our very first editors' meeting back in August, we have been focused on putting out the best possible yearbook for the Class of 2012. The varied personalities and interests of each editor helped create an interesting dynamic and insured that there was never a dull moment in the office. There were countless late nights and even some tears shed, but it was all worth it once the green "submitted" box showed up next to our pages. We appreciated the wisdom we received every time Mrs. Lush came to a meeting, and the (few) times we needed Dan to fix what Keaton couldn't. We are especially grateful to Mrs. Pasquine for all of her help, guidance, and food. This yearbook would be nothing without Big Red Pizza and Steph Pasquine's baking! Overall, creating the yearbook has been a great experience, and we are thrilled to see the final result of all of our hard work!

2012 Dedication: Mr. Ted Duluk

The Class of 2012 is incredibly thankful for the support we've received from the North Attleboro High School staff. These past four years would not have been as amazing as they were without their continued dedication to our success. While we are grateful for all of the help, we would like to recognize one teacher who stands out.

This teacher firmly believes that "you'll never learn if you're not having fun". He keeps his students interested in everything from molecules to "beautiful angiosperms". Even if you don't have him in class, everyone knows how much he loves Twilight. How could you not, I mean "have you seen that gazebo scene?" Even though he claims that the answers to everything can be found in the songs of the 60's, he keeps up with current pop culture to relate to his students.

One thing every one of his students will never forget is the phrase "structure suits function". Between his memorable expressions and catchy songs, he pushes great numbers of students each year to get 5's on the AP Biology Exam. What the numbers don't show is the impact he truly has on his students outside of class. He puts all of our problems into perspective and is always there if you need to talk. He is more than a teacher to us; he is a mentor and a friend.

Even though we're off to be real college animals, we won't forget what you've taught us, both about biology and real life. We're pleased to dedicate the 2012 Northern Light Yearbook to Mr. Ted Duluk.

Thanks Mrs. Pasquine!

This yearbook could have never been created without the help and guidance of Mrs. Pasquine. She put in many hours of extra work and sent countless emails to make sure this book came out perfectly! Thank you Mrs. Pasquine for making the yearbook committee so much fun to be a part of and thank you for helping us create this amazing book!

Kenneth G. Pickering

December 12, 1941- September 7, 2011

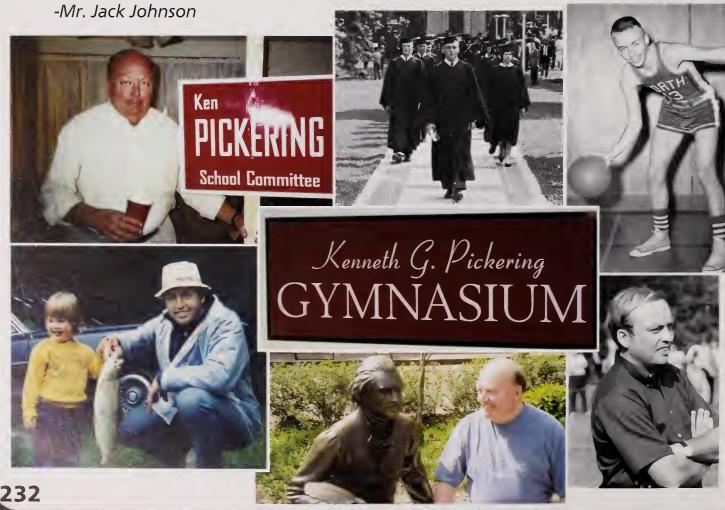

This year, the community of North Attleboro and the North Attleboro school system lost a great friend when Mr. Kenneth Pickering passed away after a long illness.

Mr. Pickering was a 1959 graduate of North High who spent 36 years here as a Phys. Ed teacher, Basketball Coach, Athletic Director and Assistant Principal before retiring in 2001. He later served on the North Attleboro School Committee.

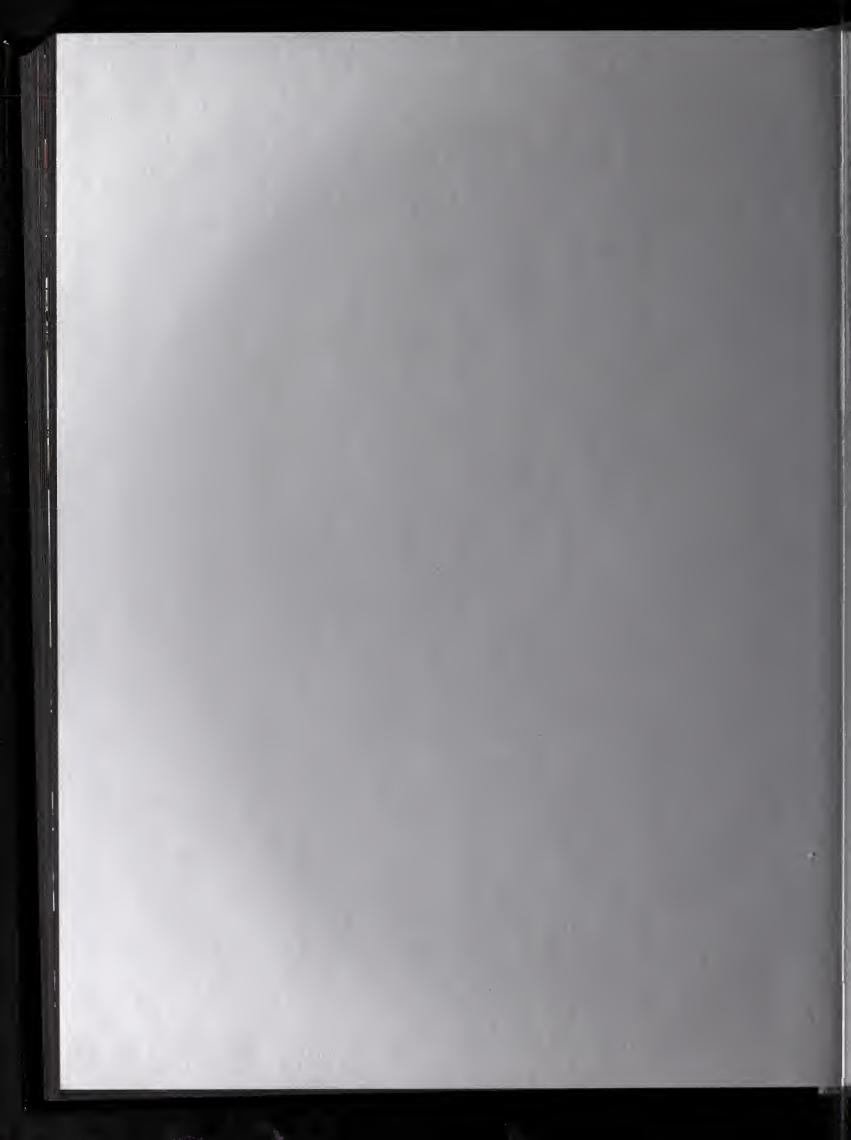

He, like the teams he coached, was hard-nosed, disciplined, smart and full of heart. In 2007 he was a recipient of the NAHS Alumni Association "Excellence in Education Award".

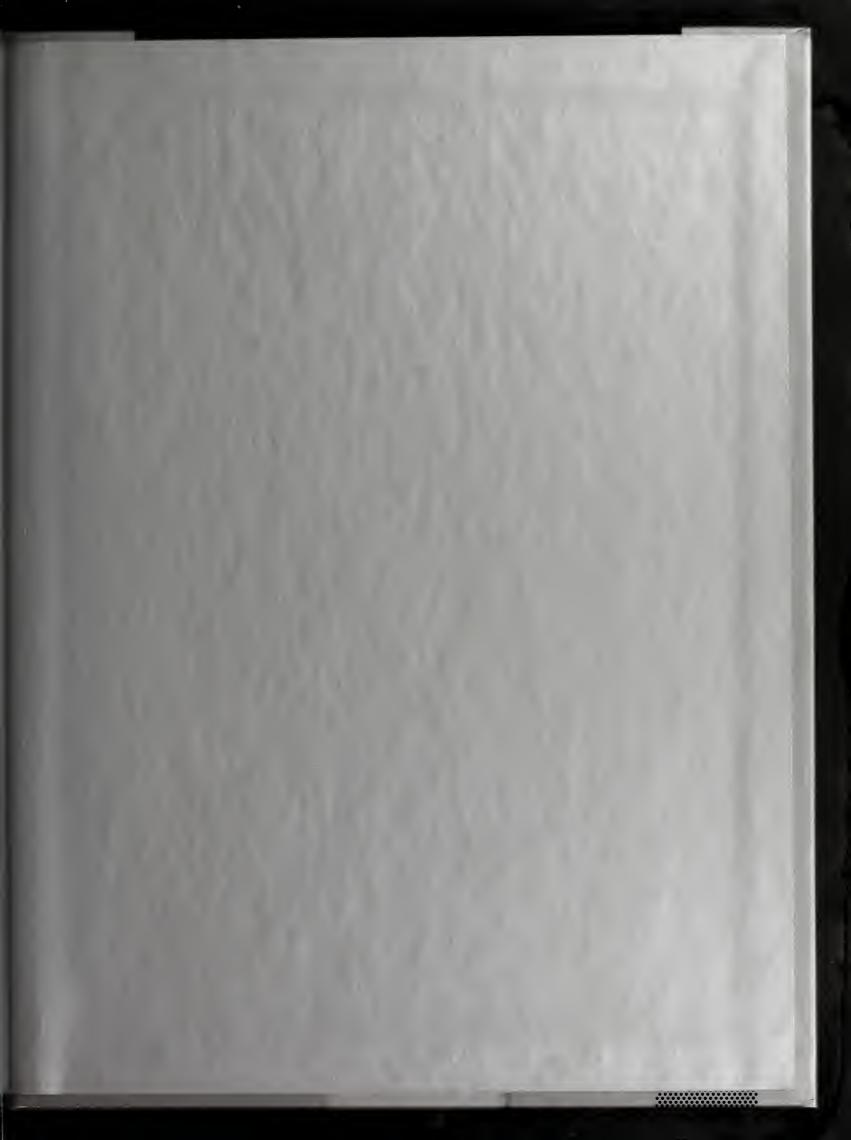

Students should recognize the Pickering name, as our gymnasium is named the Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium in his honor. Many students in the class had his daughter, Mrs. Shanley, as a reading teacher at the Middle School.

Under Mr. Pickering's leadership, North Attleboro High School students thrived academically, athletically and socially because they knew they were in a safe place that demanded high standards of behavior. He cared deeply for the town of North Attleboro and North Attleboro HS. The Class of 2012 would like to acknowledge and remember Mr. Pickering and his many contributions to North Attleboro High School.
